

SANDRINGHAM NEWS

Nurture Enrich Inspire

Friday 25th November 2022

Message from Miss Randles

It is with great excitement I sit down today to write my first newsletter as the new Headteacher for Sandringham! I have had a wonderful first week in my new role and would like to extend my thanks to you all for your kind words and support. Your children have also been dropping in with pictures to decorate my new office which has made it feel very homely!

I had a phone call with Mrs Money today who said she is enjoying her new job, but is missing our school community lots! We have a date in the diary for her to pop back and visit... watch this space! Mrs Money has asked me to pass on her thanks for all your wonderful wishes and gifts last week... she felt very spoilt. The staff sent Mrs Money an invite to her own Golden Tea Party after school last Friday which was also a lovely treat!

I have been fortunate to be able to work alongside Mrs Money prior to her leaving Sandringham and feel confident that as a result I can build upon the huge success the school has achieved during her time as Headteacher. Amongst other things I will strive to continue maintaining the nurturing, family feel that makes Sandringham such a special place.

Christmas

The countdown to Christmas at Sandringham is on! Although not quite December, the children and staff are busy preparing for their Christmas performances and those familiar carols are once again being sung up and down the corridors! Please refer to the diary dates attached with the exciting events we have coming up.

Pirate Ship

Following the update in my letter last week, I am disappointed to not be sharing photos of our pirate day today. Whilst the pirate ship structure is now finished, the ground surrounding it is still not dry enough for the wet pour surfacing to be laid. The works are due in a few weeks' time and as soon as I can, I will let you know of the new date for Pirate Day dress up!

Welcome

This week we have welcomed Jo Pearce to the LSA team at Sandringham. Mrs Pearce will be working in Reception and Year 2.

Wishing you all a wonderful weekend.

Miss Randles

PLEASE REMEMBER

Please can I remind you park considerately when dropping/picking up your children from school. We continue to have reports of fast, dangerous driving that is putting our school community at risk.
Thank you.
