Message from Miss Randles

This week Sandringham children have become 'Happy Historians' learning all about the royal family and His Majesty, King Charles III ahead of tomorrow's coronation. Today the children and staff looked fantastic in their red, white and blue and had the most wonderful time eating outside for their street party lunch! We just about dodged the rain to enjoy this celebration as a school community together. A huge thank you to Mrs Motlib and the kitchen staff for working so hard to ensure it was all a huge success.

Thank you to Rabbits parents for joining us last week for their children's class assembly. The class shared facts about rainforests, sung some rather catchy songs and showed us how their bodies could make the most amazing percussion instrument! Well done Rabbits.

Last week we also acknowledged Allergy Awareness Week with an assembly about allergies. For our young children it was important to know the difference between not liking something and being allergic to something and that this is more common than we think. In my assembly, I demonstrated how quickly allergens can spread and the children shared some fantastic ideas for how we can keep children and staff with allergies safe. All of our classrooms are now "allergy aware" with posters reminding all our visitors of this. Please see the poster attached.

I have this week confirmed the INSET Days for 2023-2024. Please note these could be subject to change with our new CEO leading staff development and trust priorities from September. Please refer to the right-hand side of the newsletter.

As the end of this term begins to draw closer, please could you bear us in mind as your child grows out of any uniform or underwear. We are particularly low on spare socks and pants for those odd toileting accidents and would appreciate any outgrown uniform that could be sold in our second-hand uniform. Thank you.

Class teachers have also asked me to remind you about earrings. Please support us by ensuring earrings are taped on PE days as children are unable to participate in lessons if they do not have their earrings taped. This is for health and safety measures.

And finally, we are looking for someone who would be interested in helping us to maintain our beautiful pond at the front of the school. Mrs Taylor (Oliver's Mum) has dedicated many years to ensure the fish are well looked after during the holidays and that the area remains as smart as ever. Unfortunately, Mrs Taylor will be leaving Sandringham in July as her son moves on to Junior school. Please do contact me or stop by the office if you would be interested in helping us out.

Wishing you all a wonderful Bank Holiday weekend. See you all on Tuesday!
