

MESSAGE FROM MRS MONEY

Friday 26th June 2020

Hello children,

I wonder if you can help me with a problem that I have in my garden? Below is a picture of my 9 year old tortoise. His name is Esiotrot (this is tortoise spelt backwards) and he is named after the Roald Dahl book, Esiotrot - perhaps some of you have read this great book?

Esiotrot keeps trying to escape from my garden as his house is a bit broken and he has worked out how to escape! I really need to make a new house for him to live in and I know that you all have such great ideas so thought you might be able to help me.

Your challenge this week is to design the most amazing tortoise home for Esiotrot to live in. He likes to walk around a lot so it needs to be quite big and he loves to sunbathe! There will be a prize for the best design and since Mr Money is very good at making things he is going to create the house/run from the winning design.

I have also recorded a story especially for those of you still at home called 'The invisible string'. The children at school have heard it too and have sent their invisible strings of love out to all of their friends not back at school yet. Please have a look for it on our story library on
