Message from Mrs Money

We are now most definitely in the throws of Christmas excitement in school! The decorations are up, the children are learning about the first Christmas and glitter is already everywhere! Hopefully you will have helped your children to access the Sandringham storytellers advent calendar this week. So far there have been stories read by myself, Miss Randles and Mrs Robinson. Please copy and paste the below link to enjoy these and listen to some more over the weekend.

Today we have also enjoyed our Elf Runs in support of the Phyllis Tuckwell Hospice. Despite the weather staff and children ran, laughed and jingled bells! Thank you so much for your donation envelopes for this very special local hospice which is close to many of our hearts.

Due to current guidelines we have had to alter the arrangements for our school Christmas Fayre. Although we can't invite families into school to enjoy this event we wanted to give the children the chance to have all the fun of the fayre in their own bubbles. Thank you so much for all of your sweet and chocolate donations and for sending in money to exchange for tickets which your children can 'spend' at the fayre on a variety of games including lucky dip, chocolate tombola, tin can alley and Christmas craft stalls. The fayre will run all week to allow games to be cleaned between uses and ensuring that each bubble has a chance to enjoy the fun whilst raising funds for the school.

Although I am delighted that we haven't had to close any bubbles yet we must remain vigilant. Please keep your children at home if anyone in your family is being tested and keep us informed of this testing process and outcomes as soon as you have them. We would ask that all Year 1 and 2 parents ensure that you have logged onto your tapestry accounts to ensure that you can access online learning for your children if needed.

I have had another complaint from a neighbour this week regarding inconsiderate parking from some Sandringham parents. Attached with this newsletter is a letter from the Police informing you of how to report dangerous, illegal or inconsiderate parking and also how they plan to follow up on this. Can I also remind you that parking on the double yellow lines is only permitted for blue badge holders.

The last two weeks of term are very exciting in school but they are also very busy. Please can you check the list of events in the last newsletter and check emails for reminders from the office.

Have a wonderful weekend.

CHRISTINGLE

In the lead up to Christmas, all children have been learning about the Christmas story and celebrating some of the traditions within Christianity. Next week we are going to hold a Christingle ceremony in school, whereby the children will make their own Christingle orange in class and on Thursday 10th December we will be lighting them in our year group bubbles in the school hall and singing some of our favourite Christmas carols.

Please send an orange (not a satsuma!) into school with your child on Monday 7th December ready to put their Christingle together in RE sessions at the beginning of the week.
